Dedication

To dedicate a yearbook to its adviser, as we have done, is perhaps as uncommon as snow in January and flowers in spring. But, the 1969 Cauldron has indeed an uncommon adviser—Professor Harvey Vetstein.

Many flowery and overused phrases can and usually will be employed in a dedication but, in the case of Prof. Vetstein, they are unneeded.

The pictures on these pages, perhaps best of all, indicate the character of the man. He is at once a friend and a counselor, an educated man and a down-to-earth guy.

When he attended Northeastern he was known as the Phantom. To us of the Cauldron he is Harvey.

To everyone with whom he comes in contact he's a helluva nice guy.

This book is dedicated to Harvey Vetstein. He deserves it.

Dr. Knowles...

President's Message...

Congratulations to you as graduating members of Northeastern University's Class of 1969.

Whether you are planning to enter business or industry, the professions, attend graduate school, or serve your country in the military, you begin your careers in progressive but seriously troubled times.

As a new young force in our society, you will be looked to for leadership in helping to solve many of our local and national domestic problems. You are very much needed, and very much welcomed.

The education you have earned at Northeastern will be invaluable to you in all your lifetime efforts. God bless you, and may you fulfill your goals for the betterment of yourself, your family, your community and your nation.

*Asa S. Knowles
President*

REALITY

OR illusion

*REALITY or illusion?
“LVX, VERITAS, VIRTUS”
Light, Truth, Virtue.
In the midst of the gap
Of credibility, knowledge,
And of generation.
Thou shalt know the truth
And the truth shall make you free.
A university, existing for
The light of knowledge,
The truth of REALITY (illusion),
To lead to virtue.
But there remains the question,
Even within the university,
REALITY or illusion?*

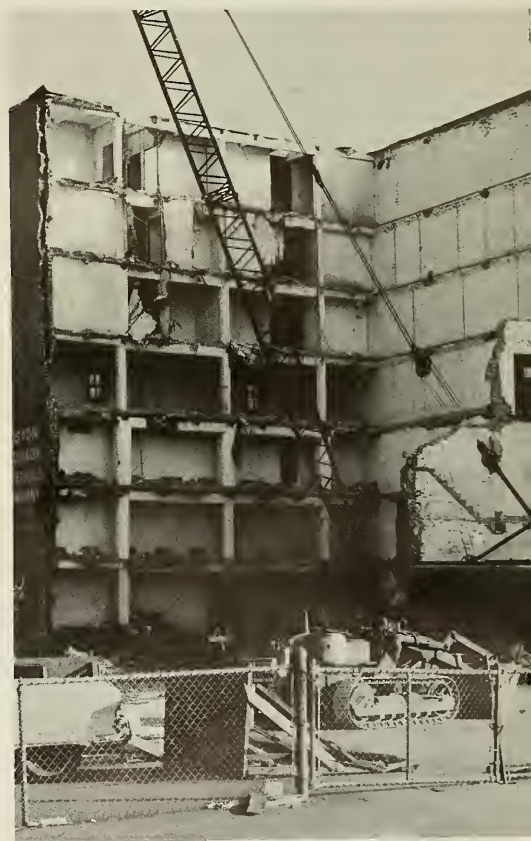

*The symbols of power, of change.
 The symbol of growth (?).
 Workman's helmet, derrick, light.
 Northeastern University, the Fastest growing product in . . .
 Beset by growing pains, by
 Strangulation of urbanity,
 By growing too fast too soon,
 By growing too slowly, not in time.
 The scope of a building program
 Lies not alone in the buildings
 But also in less concrete areas.
 But in buildings too.*

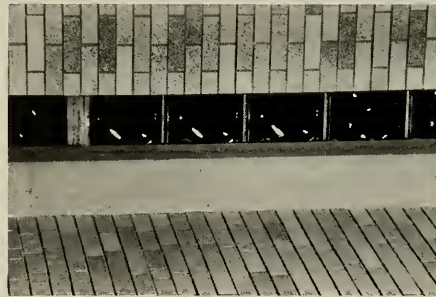

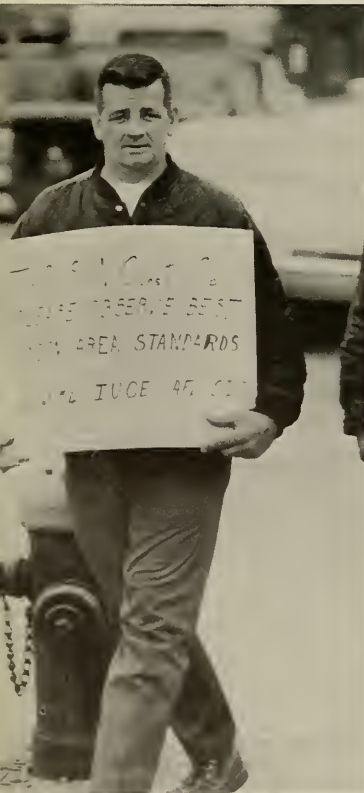

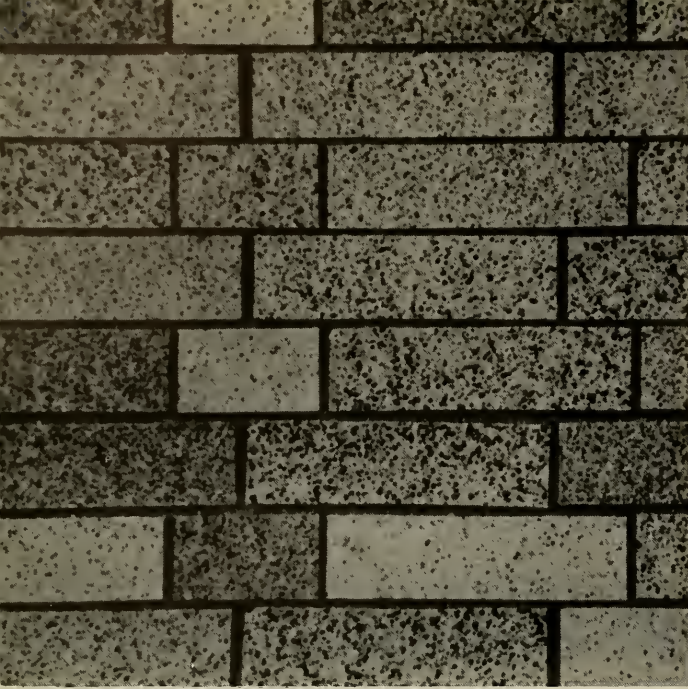

*Razing,
An opera house gone
And now a cry that Boston
Should have an opera house, 1969.
Groundbreaking, with executive Shovelfulls of dirt from the
Filled land of the Back Bay
And buildings rising on
Steel ribs to the sky almost.
Look now and see that
Architect's concepts do not Always realize themselves.
And that the university
Is built by men.*

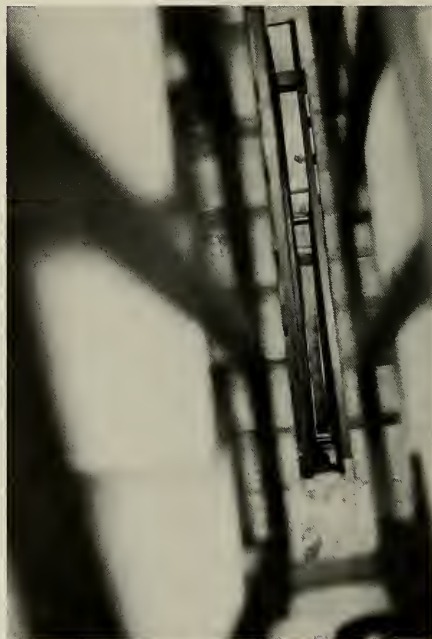

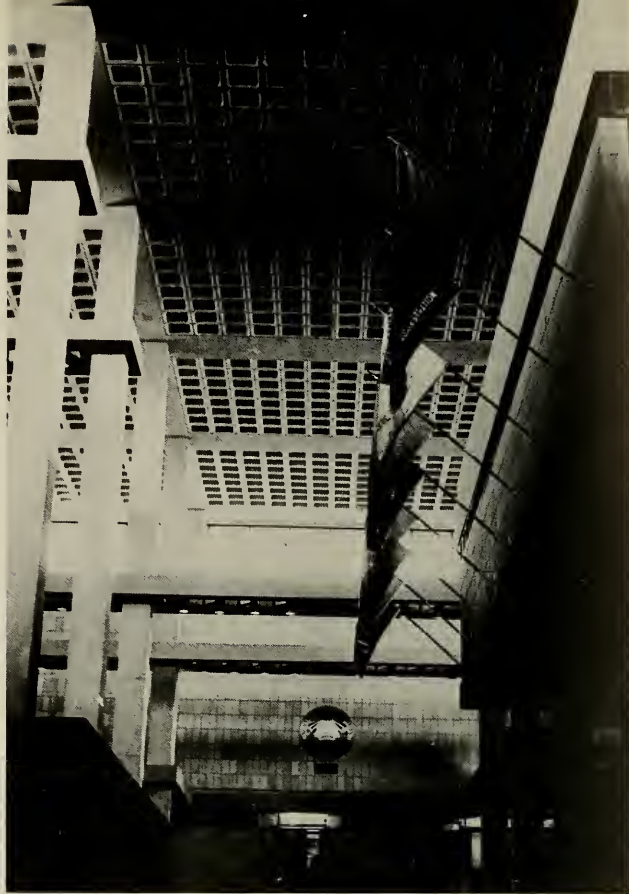

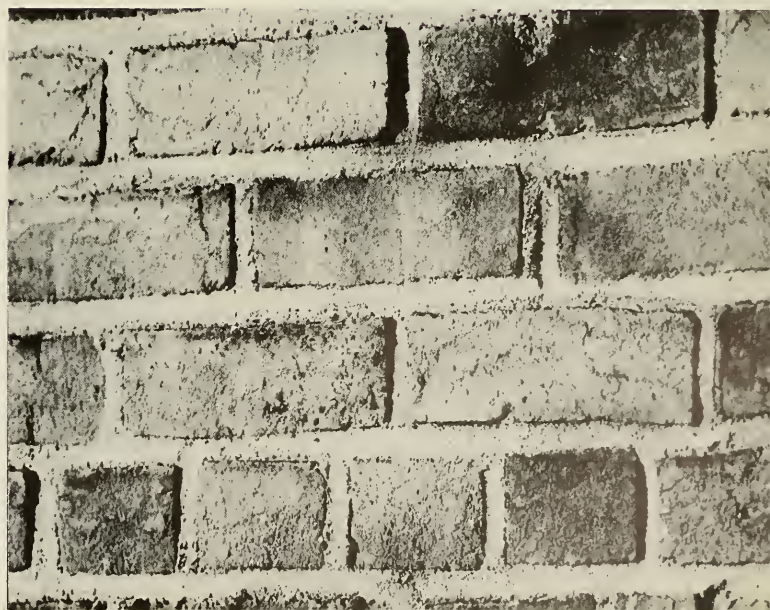

*The grand design for the university
Is for beauty and space and air,
For knowledge for growing for freedom.
Reflected by the structures
The mirror of the university
Might be its buildings.*

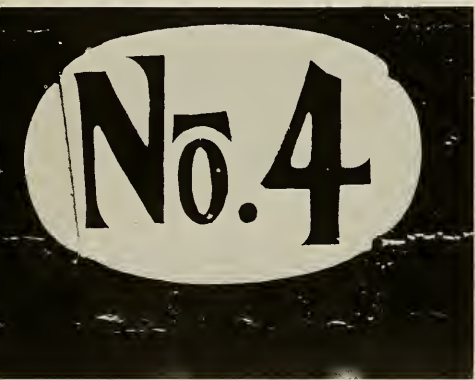

*Or the reflection of the university
Might be in its students (products).
Pouring out a symphony of ideas,
Pouring out a product that may
Withstand the rigors of time.
Or the rigors of competition:
No. 4, No. 3, No. 2, No. 1.
"Northeastern University, the
Nation's largest private institution
In terms of total enrollment."
The rigors of waste.*

The end justifying the means?
The means of the university.
Of fitting and packing and pacing.
And large-scaling, assembly-lining.
Steamrolling its valuable product(s).
Into the waiting arms of the customer.
The techno-industrial structure.
The educational-political complex.
A Christmas tree brought in from
Outside to serve as a permanent
Monument.

*Commencement is the final act
Of the university and its
Crowning accomplishment.
And for the students as well.
The bird on top of the trash basket.*

*The urban university is Crowded by its problems.
It is different from its
Country cousin, the campus.
There are considerations of
Many more people living in
A small area, young and old.
And there is the consideration
Of transportation.
Of going home.*

*The exciting, enriching
Cultural advantages that
Are enjoyed by the urban University.*

*And through it all
REALITY or illusion?
Perhaps that is the role
Of the urban university,
Of its urban students,
Of any university or student.
To separate for oneself
To decide for oneself
To understand for oneself
Institution and student
The answer to the puzzle.
Perhaps that is all the
University and its students
Are: puzzlers.
A degree in games.*

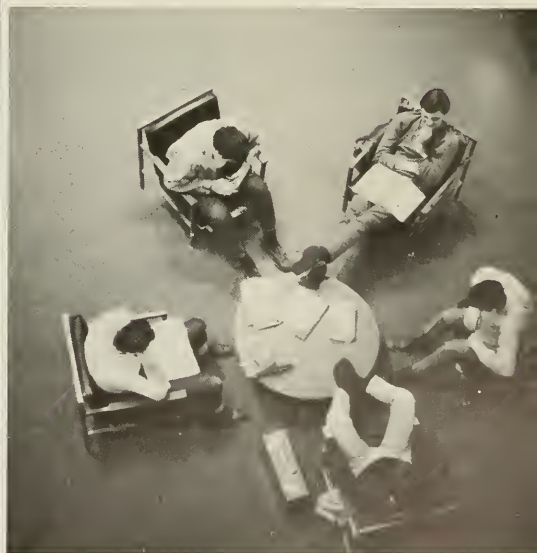

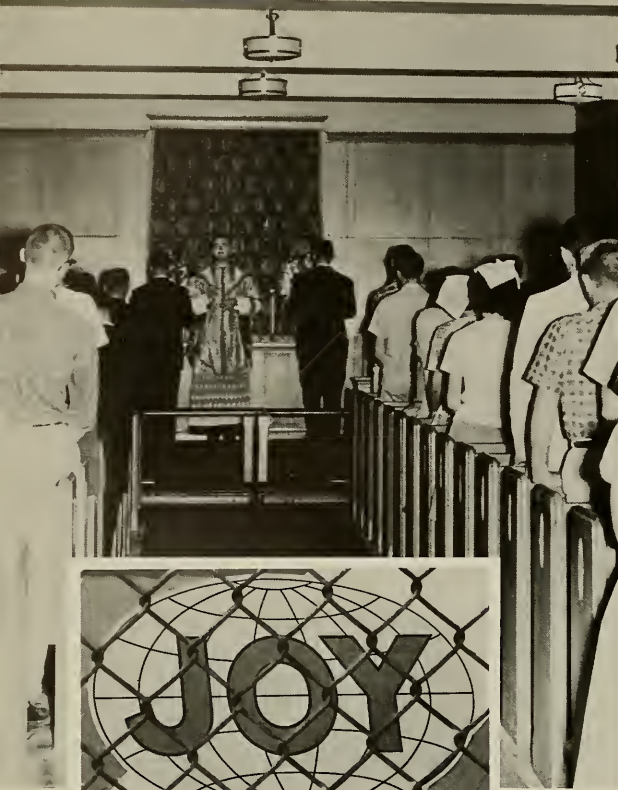

*"Dear, there is a Negro boy sitting
Over there with a white girl."
The university (the university yearbook) should attempt to Face REALITY and illusion
And change them if they are ugly.
Our lives and systems, after all,
Hinge on the maintenance of patterns.*

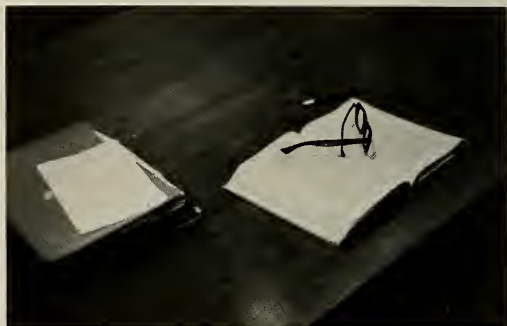

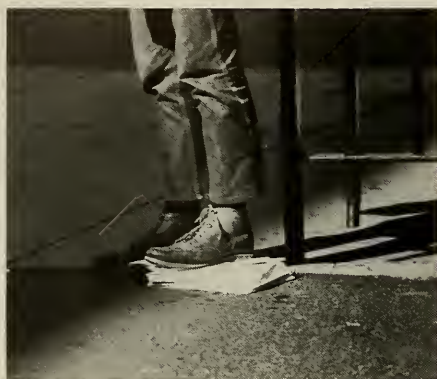

*The reason for laws is usually
The orderly running of things.
The university too has laws
For the governing of its life
And the lives of its people.
Laws sometimes hurt, are cruel
Are what they above all should
Not be—unjust. But laws
Sometimes can be changed.
These years have been a time
For the militant cry of the University populace for the Change of some of the laws.*

*Some illustrations of the student:
Work, play. Light and heavy moments.
And at communicating.
Possibly students seek to communicate
More than any other misunderstood
People.*

*But the communication does not Always extend very far. Not
To the front of the classroom.
Not to the decision-makers.
For they have made laws and Established some patterns of
Their own. Laws of recognition and patterns of understanding.
They have a strong control
Over the student's life.*

*Some of the older group, though
Not decision-makers, are very Close to the students. They Do not always understand but
They find certain advantages.
At times they understand more
Than the student thinks.*

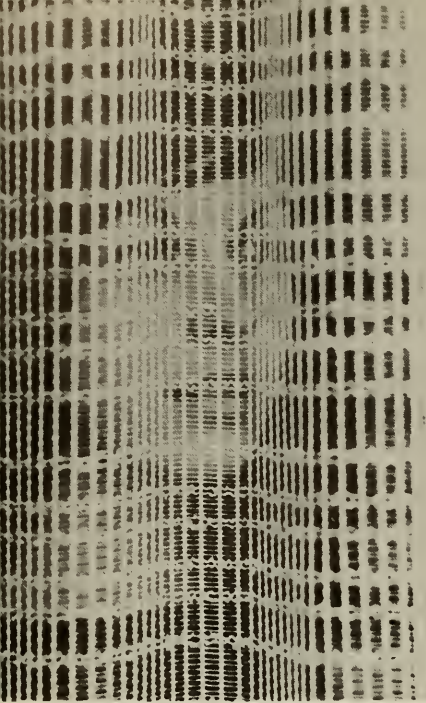

*And there are leaders.
 To make themselves heard
 To join a cause, become
 A follower. To be unified
 And unquestionably understood
 There has arisen the spokesman.
 Who makes himself heard and his Thoughts and some of his Followers' thoughts.
 Though not all.*

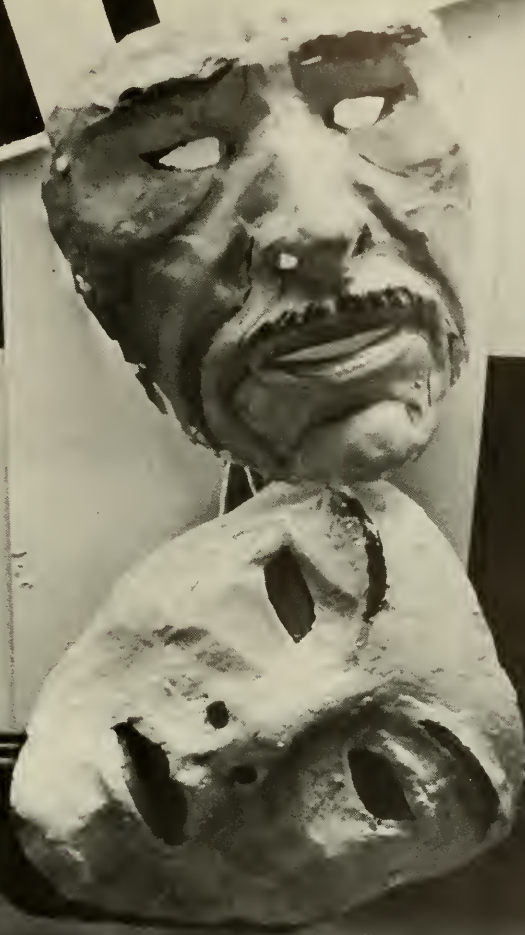

*Finally, after the words, the listening
There is thought.
“LVX, VERITAS, VIRTVS,” Cogita.
Light, Truth, Virtue.
And Thought.
The difference between
REALITY or illusion?*

AND

FACULTY

Diversity describes the administration and faculty of Northeastern University. We see young and old; liberal and conservative; male and female; scholars and businessmen. We see those who have materialistic goals; and those who have spiritual goals. We know those who communicate with the student; we do not know those who ignore the student. We are aware of many national and ethnic backgrounds. We know the serious-minded and we know the clowns.

A diverse group, this administration and faculty!

Activities

The picture on the preceding page was only half in jest since student activities can, and often do, lead to student activity.

They can also lead to more material rewards, mainly in the area of professional development. For example, it is doubtful that without the Northeastern NEWS and co-op jobs a Northeastern journalism major would learn anything about his field.

But, beyond this, a college education would be an unutterable bore without some form of extra-curricular activity—as many students find out after a year or two of ivory tower dean's-listing.

To the student activities, large and small, then, this section of the 1969 Cauldron is dedicated.

More Government

The student council, though, isn't the only student governmental body on campus. For the past few years—since the new Ell Student Center addition was opened—the Student Center Committee has set up shop in the building.

It has made rules for the use of game and study rooms. It has occasionally made a nuisance of itself.

But, the upshot of the whole thing is that it's another instance where students were recognized to be intelligent enough to have some control—at least over the building they paid for through the nose.

Spirit?----Spirit!!

It's constantly scoffed at, but school spirit is indeed an important part of college life. For the Class of 1969, that spirit was generally easy to come by. During our tenure at Northeastern there were tournament competitions in baseball, basketball and hockey. There was a football team which always had a good season. A couple of times there were homecomings or winter carnivals which featured big name entertainment. There were apple dunking and pie eating contests, canoe races, bed races, Mayoralty and Mr. Husky campaigns. There were more serious activities like the Student Union Christmas Party for underprivileged kids.

These activities—most of them—were promoted by groups dedicated to the advancement of school spirit—groups like the Husky Key, the Student Union and Omega Sigma.

It's easy to forget school spirit. Easy, that is, if groups like these aren't around.

Hear ye! Hear ye!

Communications became vastly more important even during the short five years the Class of 1969 spent at Northeastern. We saw a war in living color. We saw the moon from 70 miles away. We saw what a good cosmetician can do for politicians. And we heard, and read, of all the events of the world—in some cases only moments after they happened.

Here on campus, there was communication too. We had the Northeastern NEWS which, our first four years, told us the story of what went on on campus. Our fifth year, it told us how to think and what drugs to smoke—but it still tried to communicate.

We had WNEU, which tried to broaden its format throughout our college careers and ended up as a pretty good college station.

We had the Spectrum, which grew from a once a year magazine of little literary merit to a thrice yearly magazine, beginning to show itself well.

And, of course, we had the Cauldron. You must be the judge of that.

Northeastern NEWS...

...In Perspective

Once Upon A Time

. . . there was no Spectrum. There was an NU Writer. It was like its name—pretty bad.

Then there was a Spectrum. And a nude picture on the cover. Zap. Zowie. The issue sold out. Then there were no more nude pictures.

There was, however, a resurgence of Spectrum. There got to be more and better issues. More and better short stories and poems. And some pretty good—but not nude—photos.

The Class of 1969 got a Spectrum three times in the same year. Too bad most of us didn't buy it.

The motley Spectrum crew

Cauldron

It's only fair to be truthful. We got so wrapped up in getting other people's pictures that we forgot to take any of ourselves.

You can, however, fantasize for yourself what we look like. These hints might help:

- a. Tall*
- b. Dark*
- c. Handsome*
- d. Beautiful*
- e. None of the above*

560 WNEU

Div. B

Div. A

The Devil finds work for idle hands, so WNEU solves the problem . . . .

The campus of 1969 found little time for religious activity—being vastly more interested in demonstration and dissent; marijuana and materialism.

However, we had our religious organizations and a couple of them, if not flourishing, continued to exist and hold the interest of some of us.

These next two pages then, are for those of us who consciously recognized, and worked for, some form of supreme being—while the rest either realized there was one but didn't have time or tried our best not to think about it.

ROTC Activities

As we of the Class of 1969 are well aware, our final couple of years at Northeastern were stormy ones for those among us who chose to belong to the Reserve Officer's Training Corps.

ROTC was the subject of taunts ranging from graffiti to growling mobs on many campuses. It lost academic credit on most. But, through it all, a large percentage of our graduating class belonged to ROTC.

And, not just to ROTC, but to several ROTC affiliated groups, did our classmates belong. Groups which did everything from marching and throwing wooden guns around at each other, to ham radio, to band music, to the more abstruse corners of electronics.

So, with no comment on the morality of ROTC, here they are:

SPORTS

"The thrill of victory, the agony of defeat," says the voice of Wide World of Sports each week.

That's Sports, man against man in fierce dramatic competition, muscles lunging beyond the tearing point; lungs panting for breath they know is not coming; and arms falling to the ground because the athlete has gone past endurance.

It's the spiritual and the supernatural, the thin barrier separating sanity and insanity, life and death for the loneliness of the long distance runner.

"Any recreational activity," says Webster—"The only page in human life that holds good news," says another.

Webster adds further that any sport is a game requiring bodily exertion, but despite his further addition, it ISN'T anything to be joked about.

From the streetcorner star, who imagines himself running a three-minute mile but winds up running from the police—to the rich ivyleaguer who seems to have a penchant for making things easy, money or sports—the bodily exertion still produces perspiration, no matter what the station of the performer.

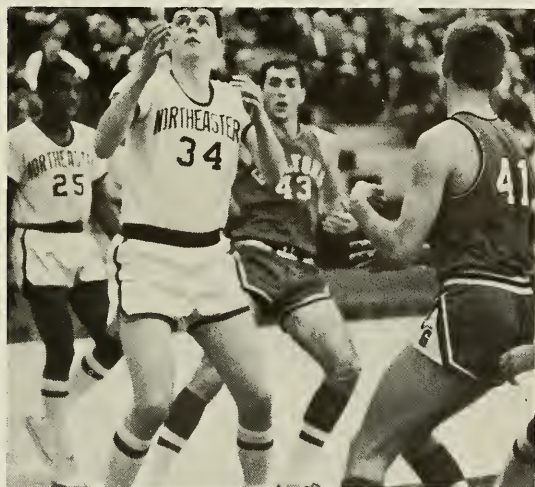

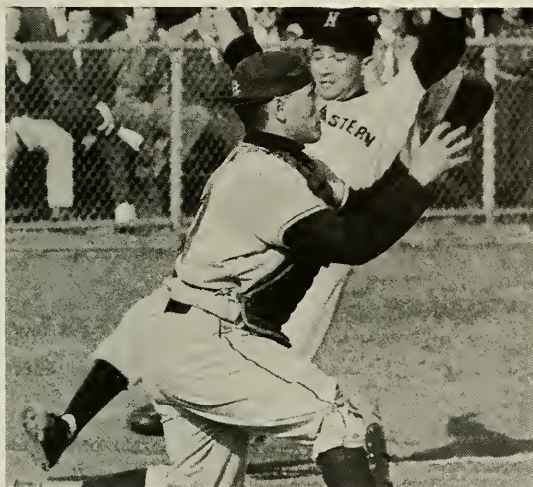

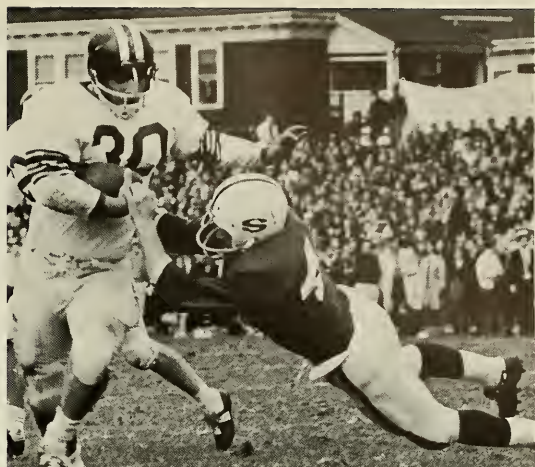

Perspiration is sweat, the water of success and you can't be anything without it.

Sweat is "giving forth a salty moisture through the pores of the skin."

So then, Sports is a combination of insanity, death, and sweat.

But to the dedicated sportsman, a sweeter smell cannot be found.

FOOTBALL

"Offense sells tickets," the saying goes, but "Defense wins ball games."

Coach Joe Zabilski's 1967 football team proved that well enough, building a 7-1 record by having the No. 2 ranked defense in the country in the college division.

Spearheading the defenders were All-East defensive end Craig MacDonald and cornerback Jim Heelen. The rock front five was MacDonald, Little All American Joe Lanzilli, Ken Orcutt, Dennis Baniewicz, and Dick Andersen.

They had plenty of help from middle linebacker Jack Freeman, and deep men Heelen, Bill Shea, Bill McCarthy, John Smith, and Bob Lorinovich.

While that unit was stopping teams, three sophomores combined with All-East fullback Bill Curran to put points on the board too.

Quarterback Bob Connors, halfback Bruce Cornell, and flanker Jake Fennessey showed they could run and catch ... and throw.

Late in the season, the Huskies were rolling along undefeated with a 5-0 record and a possible Tangerine Bowl berth in Orlando Beach, Fla. waiting.

... Then ... a Fall day in a deep and dark October.

A tough New Hampshire team used a pair of electrifying long punt returns to stun Northeastern, 21-13. The Huskies gave up only 34 points all season, most of them that one day in Durham, N.H.

Included in their seven wins were impressive romps over a veteran C.W. Post team of Long Island, N.Y. and Springfield, Mass.

Tangerine talk with still prevalent on the seven hour bus ride to Cortland, N.Y. State for the last game. The Huskies, trying to make it impressive for the committee, pasted the Red Dragons, 22-0, for the New Yorkers second home loss in five years.

The attitude of the team during season must have been summed up by Freeman when Cortland got the ball on the Northeastern five-yard line, first down.

"Don't worry coach," he told Zabalski, "they won't score." They didn't.

A lot of the hard-hitting was done by the quick starting offensive line, led by another All-East player, guard Mike Donovan.

The season was just another winning effort for Zabalski, who has been putting Northeastern on the map for more than 20 years. He's been doing it with home grown talent too, mostly Massachusetts and New England players.

Most of that 1967 defense was back in '68 too and helped steady the crew of sophomores that joined the varsity.

CREW

CREW .. a definition ....

... According to Mr. Noah Webster, the word crew can be defined as "A group of people working together, as all the seamen on a ship."

Since that definition was written, lots of groups of people have been working together on ships, or shells as you would, on college campuses across the United States.

Only six years ago, they started working in earnest at Northeastern, trying to put together a "Crew" team, one that would compete with other schools, rowing against them in long, thin boats called shells.

The other schools laughed. "Why, it takes years to develop a real crew," they scoffed.

They didn't say how many years, so Northeastern took it to mean only one. By that time, no one, including Harvard, which has been undefeated in college crew for about a million years, resorted to laughing at NU.

They were too busy rowing, trying to win.

The Huskies went to the Henley Regatta in England with coach Ernie Arlett, a bit of an Englishman himself, and began scaring everybody in sight with a taut, well-disciplined crew that came within a crab of beating the famous Harvards in 1967.

Crew hasn't stopped for NU on the Charles since, and last October, Northeastern had an Olympic winner, not in its eight man crew, but Bill Maher, who garnered a bronze medal for aiding his teammate to a third place finish in the double sculls at Mexico.

BASKETBALL

Coach Dukeshire

For the second consecutive year, Northeastern basketball coach Dick Dukeshire sent a player to the National Basketball Association.

Harry Barnes, a lithe 6'3" forward was drafted, and stayed with the San Diego Rockets. In 1966-67, guard Rick Weitzman was drafted and stayed with the world champion Boston Celtics.

Barnes, who scored more than 1,000 points for the Huskies, was switched to a backcourt position with San Diego.

For the 67-68 season, he combined with captain Mike Wallent, Art Christopher, Leo Osgood, and Carleton Chandler to bring NU a 19-9 mark and a berth in the NCAA College Division Regional tourney, the seventh in the past nine years.

In that tourney, Northeastern, the favorite, was upset in the opening round by Rochester, N.Y., 73-70. Dukeshire's quintet did defeat Lemoine, N.Y. in the semi-final consolation, 67-54.

Barnes high point came in an 83-78 loss to AIC in the second game of the season. He scored 30 points in that one. Harry, from Roxbury, Mass., averaged 16.9 points per game, and pulled down 7.8 rebounds in each contest.

Northeastern never could seem to put together the big winning streak, with the longest lasting four games. It was "win two lose one."

The season was not all good news from Barnes though. Guard Leo Osgood averaged 16.2 points per game and had many assists.

In the first annual Colonial Tourney, Northeastern beat BU, 70-57, and MIT, 75-61 to cop the title.

The Colonial replaced the Basketball Beanpot, which had been monopolized by Boston College wins.

In the annual GAME with B.C., NU stayed close, but the nationally-ranked Eagles pulled away to win a close game, 83-75. BC couldn't stop Barnes, who had 26 points.

The AIC Holiday tourney was just a case of a bad draw for the Huskies, who had to play Guilford, N.C., ranked in the top ten of College Division teams, in the opening round.

Osgood poured in 21 points, but it wasn't enough to stop Guilford, an 82-71 victor.

Captain Wallent helped take up the slack when Osgood ran into Barnes in practice, causing Leo to fracture his cheek and miss 10 games.

Wallent had a 9.2 points per game average, and took down 7.4 rebounds.

Art Christopher, returning from a year's absence, soon found his scoring touch again, averaging seven points and 5.4 rebounds. Christopher also was selected to tour Europe with the Gillette All-Stars.

Dave Laudati, a guard with a good outside shot, put 5.5 points through the hoop each game, and had numerous assists. Another senior, guard Nick Constantino, averaged 2.4 per game, playing in 23 games.

HOCKEY

It was uphill all the way. Again, the Northeastern hockey team fought its way through a difficult season of topflight competition, managing to post a 6-17-1 slate.

Overtime was the downfall of the Huskies all season. They lost three times in extra periods, 5-4 to Princeton, 8-7 to AIC, and 5-4 to Colgate.

The ECAC holiday tourney was a split as NU beat Dartmouth after losing to Princeton.

The Beanpot, Boston's annual battle for college hockey honors, belonged to Boston University for the third consecutive year.

Northeastern lost to its two jinx teams, BU, 7-4, and Boston College, 6-4. BC had won earlier in the season, 6-1. The Huskies also lost twice more to BU, 8-2, and 5-4.

Seniors Rick Porter and Ed McCarty led the scoring race for NU with 33 and 32 points.

Porter had 18 goals and 15 assists, while McCarty put 15 goals into the nets, and helped on 17 others.

Next in line was sophomore Dave Poile, with 14 goals and 13 assists. Poile showed a tremendous ability to be in the right place at the right time, constantly appearing for centering passes.

Northeastern was lacking seniors at the defenseman's spot with only John Sullivan, who had four assists, putting punch there for the upper classmen.

Defense was handled most of the time by sophomores Tom Daniels and Jim Hampe. Daniels had three goals and 11 assists, as did Hampe.

Hoping for the future was sophomore Joe Sarno and juniors Jack Desjardins and Bob MacCausland. Desjardins scored 16 points on eight goals and eight assists, while MacCausland had six goals and nine assists.

Sarno, a real scrambler, dug for five goals and 16 assists and 21 points.

Perhaps the only difference between defeat and embarrassment was goalie Ken Leu, who's brother Jim was a high scoring forward a few years earlier.

Leu, peppered by 39 shots a game off opponent's sticks, stopped 34 of them, allowing five goals per game. Although BU's Jim McCann won the beanpot MVP, many persons thought Leu actually outshone McCann, who played behind excellent defense.

The lack of teamwork, caused by not enough playing team, pushed the squad into a 2-10-1 mark, before they rebounded to win four of their last 11 games.

Northeastern's mark in the larger Division One scheduling, was 4-12-1. They went 3-5 against Division II teams, and again missed one of the eight berths in the NCAA Eastern United States championship.

The freshman team also had a poor season, but in Glenn Eramo, Bell would find a speedy scrambler, who could both fire and feed the puck.

... is Boston's perennial battle for college hockey honors, annually bringing together Boston College, Boston University, Harvard, and Northeastern.

Although the Huskies have never won the tourney, they have been in the finals several times.

In 1968, though, they were relegated to the consolation game again as Boston University downed them, 7-4 in the opening round before sweeping to its third consecutive Beanpot title.

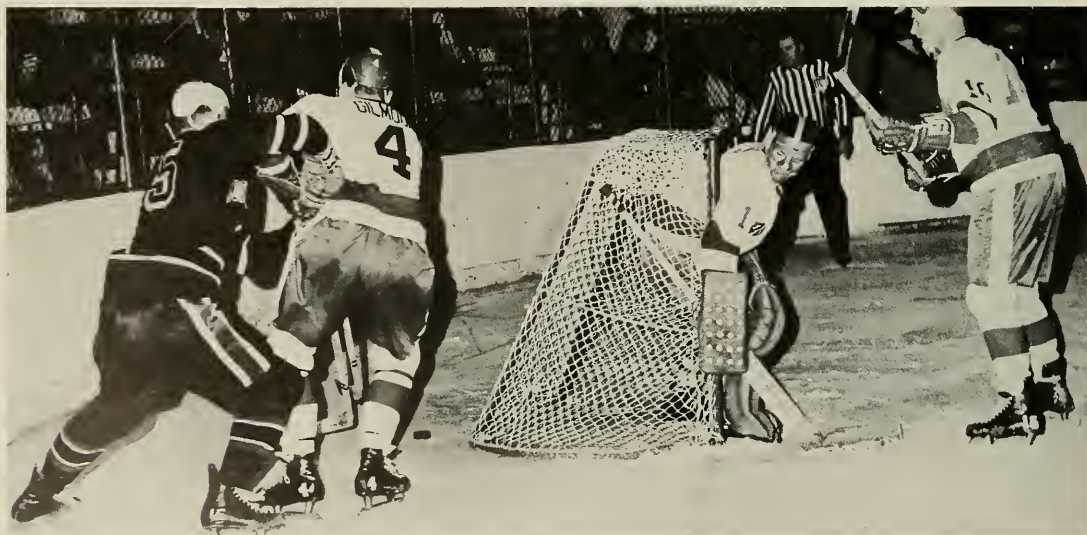

Although the Boys from Commonwealth Avenue took the title again, the February Frenzy was capped by the spectacular goaltending of Ken Leu.

But, of course losing goalies don't receive prizes, so the MVP went to BU goalie Jim McCann.

BASEBALLL

Slumping averages and perennial downpour in a dour 1968 Spring hurt Northeastern's chances to return to the baseball glory of 1966 when a team went to the national tourney in Omaha, Nebraska.

Coach John Tinker Connolly looked for hard-hitting centerfielder Russ Imbrenda and clutch player Bill Shea at first base to bring visions of sugarplums and baseball titles to Huntington Avenue again.

But, a 20-game season and infrequent games mixed with indoor practices don't quite produce robust hitting. That comes with sunshine.

Imbrenda fell from a sensational junior year, to a dismal .202 average, while Shea, trying to return from a damaging football injury to his knee, hit an unbelievable bottom of .098.

In fact, the whole team failed to produce a starting .300 hitter in an 11-9 year (6-3 in the Greater Boston League).

Third baseman Pat Bauer led all regulars with a .296 mark. He also had seven walks, and pilfered five bases to be the quickest Husky on the paths.

Following Bauer, second baseman Rick Farrell came in with a good .280, and a homerun, while left fielder Wayne Rana made it a winning season with a .269 mark and 13 walks.

Surprisingly though, Bauer hit only .229 in the GBL, while Rana had an amazing .375 total.

Among other regulars, shortstop Bob MacCausland hit .263; catcher Jack Freeman batted .238; and left-fielder Bruce Cornell had a .129 mark.

The pitching outlook was brighter as Jeff Sones, Art Kostka, Dennis McCarthy, Jim Hampe, and Ed McCarty combined for a 1.59 Earned Run Average.

Sones, at 1-0, had the lowest at .52, but pitched only 17 innings.

Kostka, the second workhorse behind McCarty, had a 2-4 mark, but had a great 1.11 ERA. Kostka, a big sophomore, showed his bigger fastball would bring a winning mark in the future.

McCarthy was 2-3 and 1.32; Hampe was undefeated as a relief pitcher at 2-0 and 2.36, while McCarty was the winningest at 4-2 and 2.59.

An early 7-5 loss to BC was disputed when the Eagles won on a "fair-foul" homerun in the last inning.

After the last two shutout losses, the only ones suffered by Northeastern, despite the lack of big hitting, Coach Connolly hoped the bag for 1969 held some heavy oak and smoking horsehide.

Sports--1968-69

The 1968-69 sports season ran hot-cold-hot for Northeastern as the football team ran up a 6-3 record, playing some tough competition and some not-so-tough.

Later, the hockey team—playing, as usual, the toughest competition around—felt the sting of a poor recruiting program as the best it could manage was a 7-16 slate, despite having the leading goal scorer in the East in junior center Dave Poile.

Dick Dukeshire's Husky hoopmen, though, gave their usual good account of themselves, rolling up a 16-5 record in their first year as a major college squad.

In fact, as we seniors spent our final year relaxing and enjoying sports instead of competing in them, Northeastern's hoop quintet remained in contention for a National Invitation Tourney berth until the last week.

Three apparently senseless losses—to Central Connecticut, Fairleigh-Dickinson and New Hampshire—plus two good losing efforts against powerful Holy Cross and Boston College.

Seniors Leo Osgood and Carl Chandler plus a handful of talented sophomores led the Huskies throughout, with Osgood the scoring leader at 15.5 points a game with Chandler second, and Chandler the rebound leader with the 5'11" Osgood third.

Osgood, in fact, is a hot prospect to become the third Northeastern product in as many years to stick in the National Basketball Association.

On the gridiron, Coach Joe Zabilski's eleven played some pretty tough competition and highlighted its season by routing major college power Temple 41-26 on the latter's field.

Despite suffering injuries on and off throughout the season, fullback Bill Curran finished second in rushing to quarterback Bob Connors as both wound up highly successful Northeastern careers.

In Hockey, Poile was just about the entire story as he potted 31 goals and picked up 15 assists—including a four goal game and several hat tricks.

With only four seniors on the ice squad, coach Jimmy Bell can look forward to a better 1969 season—hopefully.

...Kaleidoscope of color

*The present is the sum of all history ...
And we are a part of all that went before*

When the Class of 1969 began its college career back in 1964, a young member of the class drove his motorcycle across country to be in Boston in time for the start of classes.

His journey was unsure. Some people did not think he would make it safely and on time.

The trip was marked by stormy as well as fair weather. Occasionally, he ran afoul of authority, and had small accidents which slowed him down.

But he made it, and on time. Like this young man, the Class of 1969 made it.

The next section deals with the history of the Class of 1969. The Cauldron hopes to give an accurate pictorial account of the good times and the bad, the problems which beset the class and the university as a whole during the past five years, as well as the changes which took place within the class, the school and the world.

This is your history. Like the two faces of drama, it is both happy and sad. You made history in your own way. It belongs to no one else but you.

Thus the Odyssey begins

They came ready for anything.

Where do we go from here?

It began in September, 1964

*Then the class of '69 belonged to the spirit of the husky and the gray-
brick tradition....*

The Class of 1969 was, according to President Knowles, "a unique class."

Among the other members of the class were the first students to enroll in the college of nursing, the first students to receive the Ford Foundation Scholarships for Negro students, the first 400 women to occupy the new Speare Hall dormitory and the first 350 freshmen to begin studies at the Burlington campus.

Records were also set the first day of classes. It was the largest class to have attended Northeastern up to that time, and enrollment totalled 2,500, including a record number of coeds—600.

It also was a last. The Class of 1969 was the last to study on the old flip-flop schedule of co-op. They made a big splash, but finally settled down to the business of education?

To

Own . . .

But in the weeks and months that followed, there were more things to do than study. There was freshman night, folk singing with the Serendipity Singers, and that fall madness known as the Mayoralty contest.

Little things around the school took the pressure off the studies, like the night a group of girls got caught in the elevator of the newly-opened Speare Hall, or the day they let the girls into the boy's gymnasium, for physical training, or that shaving foam fight in the main Quad-rangle, or the day Chrysler Corp. was able to run its experimental turbine car on "greasy kids' stuff."

By this time, the Class of 1969 was part of that ever-burgeoning list of students intimately known by the COMPUTER.

In 1964, Erin Go Bra won as Mayor of Huntington Avenue. Remember some of his supporters?

The winter term

It was back to school in a week for the winter quarter. Time went by quickly. The Silver Masque produced "Bus Stop" and the Stearns Study found that about 50 per cent of the students in America cheat in one way or another. The Sigma Phi Beta colony took first place at the winter carnival with their snow sculpture of "Snoopy" atop his dog house. There was Christmas and snow.

With the coming of spring, things began to happen again. There was trouble in Selma, Alabama, and representatives from SNCC, CORE, NAACP and the Harvard Divinity School were joined by members of the Newman Club in a march on the Federal Building.

A week later thousands of Northeastern students as well as students from Simmons, Emmanuel, Boston State and B.C. filled the quadrangle for a memorial service for the Rev. James Reeb, killed by segregationists.

Then in April students from Northeastern packed off to Washington to be involved with a protest, THE protest, of the war in Vietnam. Pretty soon, everybody was marching.

Then it was Spring

The 1964-65 academic year also was marked by the so-called purchase of radio station WNEU by freshman fraternity members for 1,001 Coke bottle caps. It was the year someone determined that a half million cups of coffee were drunk on campus each year, and a time when an advertisement which read "specialists in crew cuts and flat tops" was not laughed at. And Bob Cappadona ranked sixth in the nation in football rushing.

A documentary on John F. Kennedy entitled "A Thousand Days" and an "extra high-voltage" art show were produced.

Sigma Phi Beta was the first fraternity to be accepted by the IFC and given full colony status. President Knowles gave the go ahead for the purchase of 3,000 extra books a year for the library. The flu hit hard that year and the indoor track team went undefeated for the third straight year.

Then the spring finals came up suddenly. And just as suddenly, the freshman year was over.

Black art, culture on display

BY NEDDA YOUNG

A defiant black man is on display in the Commons. Part of "A Week of Black Culture", the Black Students' Union, the Boston Black Artists' Association and local businesses have donated paintings and crafts for show during this week.

Hand carvings of faces, spears and elephants adorn the display cases at the entrance to the cafeteria. One picture portrays a black man with slightly exaggerated features holding his head high. On the opposite side is a black man dressed in a suit, smiling. Another shows the African, proud and free in his society, the other a businessman in American life, free, but how much so?

In the other case, a black Eve with an apple at her feet stand clutching a towel. Seagulls are flying on the canvas. Businesses which have donated these articles are the Nubian Nation on Humbolt Avenue, Roxbury, and the Hut on Massachusetts Avenue.

"Black Jesus" hangs in the Ell Student Center. Drawn by Gary Rickson, Jesus is on the cross, in the midst of buildings and burned ruins, with a tear trickling down his cheek.

"Sheilah" is a proud, pensive woman by Arnold Hurley.

The Black section of Boston is painted greyly by Gary Rickson.

Two hulking figures are seen walking in Roxbury, with faint outlines in the background. The bleakness of the situation and the return to primitive times strikes home all too vividly.

Two pictures of Martin Luther King, one in oils, the other in charcoal, represents everything he was—calm, idealistic and strong.

"At the D.M.Z. in Korea" by T. L. Yancey is an explosion of color splashed on the canvas.

McCarthy thanks you for CHOICE 68 votes

Dear Editor:

I am writing to you in the hope that you will communicate my appreciation to the students on your campus for their CHOICE 68 votes.

Not only because my candidacy was favored in the balloting am I grateful. More significant than the success or the losses of individual candidates in CHOICE 68 is the participation by one million students on some 1200 campuses in the political process. Student opinions, debated and expressed democratically, will influence elections throughout our nation.

CHOICE 68 opinions on military action, bombing and the urban situation have been forwarded to me. I note that 55.4 percent of my student supporters favor a reduction of military action in Vietnam and 29.1 percent are for withdrawal. Among students for me, 51.2 percent would stop the bombing and 28.4 percent prefer temporary suspension. I can assure you I shall keep these views in mind as I try to develop intelligent responses to changing international relations.

The emphasis of students for McCarthy on education and job training in our urban reconciliation efforts is reassuring to me in a very personal way. Let us remain together and I am confident that our common cause can change the direction of our country.

With best wishes.

Sincerely yours,
Eugene J. McCarthy

No more THE NEWS...

Because The NEWS is listed on the Post Office's second-class mailing lists as "The Northeastern News," we must abandon the artsy-craftsy name flag we've used til now. Unless the rule is changed or we start a Post Office Resistance group, we must comply.

For those among you who thought that Avatar had really entered the corporeal spirit of your school rag, we are pleased to announce our artist is hard at work on another, and this time legal, spirited name flag.

'Out of it came a new awareness'

BY BOB MATORIN

Two Columbia University students, involved in the recent takeover of buildings at that school, spoke to a group of 90 Northeastern students Monday at the Ell Center.

Sara Eisenstein, a graduate student at Columbia, and Nate Gifenbaum, a freshman, explained during the SDS-sponsored meeting the background of the situation at Columbia and the reasons behind the takeover.

According to Eisenstein, the students demonstrated against university plans to demolish a playground in Morningside Heights in order to build a gymnasium.

The students were also opposed to military research being done at the school in connection with the Institute of Defense Analysis, and to "the university's attempt to smash leftist activity."

their own terms.

"Universities are very much a part, and an important part, of the power structure," Eisenstein said. "It's unrealistic and undesirable to talk of limited structural changes in the university."

"A lot of people just couldn't believe it," said Gifenbaum of the student beatings. When non-demonstrators were beaten by the police, even a lot of "Left-Libs" and faculty were revolted, he said.

"Out of it came a new political awareness of why the cops were called in here and a realization that the political demands are justified and are really very modest compared to what's going on in this country."

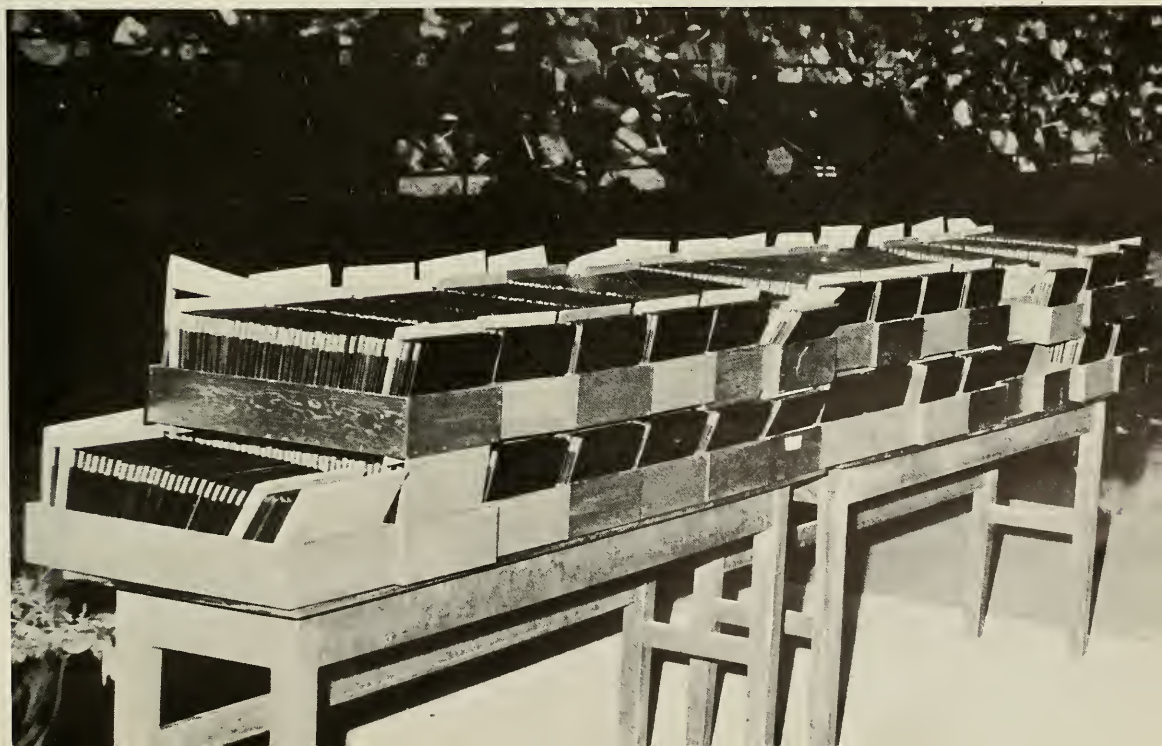

—Bob Matorin

Once over--quickly

These next few pages constitute a tour—perhaps a final one—of the Northeastern campus, as it was in the Fall of 1964 and as it is in the Spring of 1969.

It has changed—drastically so. But behind the extra tons of gray ceramic brick there is still the Northeastern the Class of 1969 saw almost five years ago when it first entered the main quadrangle. Still the hustle and the bustle, still the constant complaints of not enough time in the term and the constant groanings when the time comes to return to the University from a co-op term.

It is doubtful that one can find a University exactly like Northeastern anywhere else in the world. For, with all the ugly grey brick and the shortcomings that this and every other university must have to remain a basically human institution, Northeastern has become a home to the members of the Class of 1969.

And so, the final tour . . .

We got here this way . . .

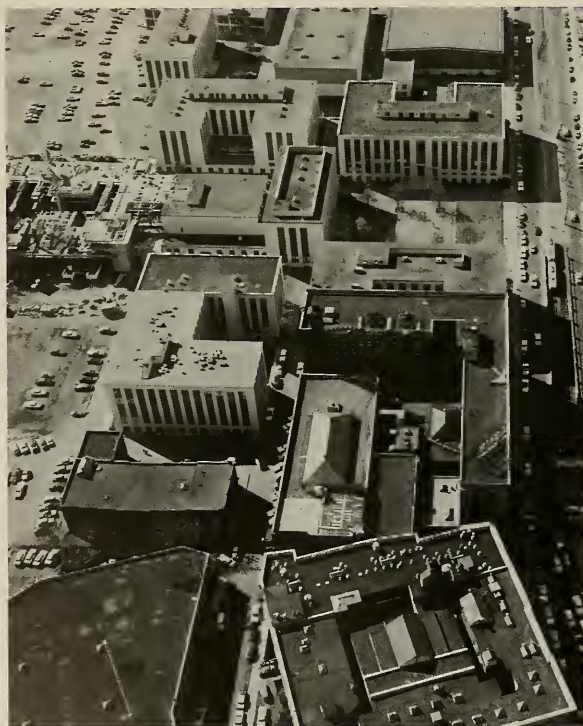

We entered here . . .

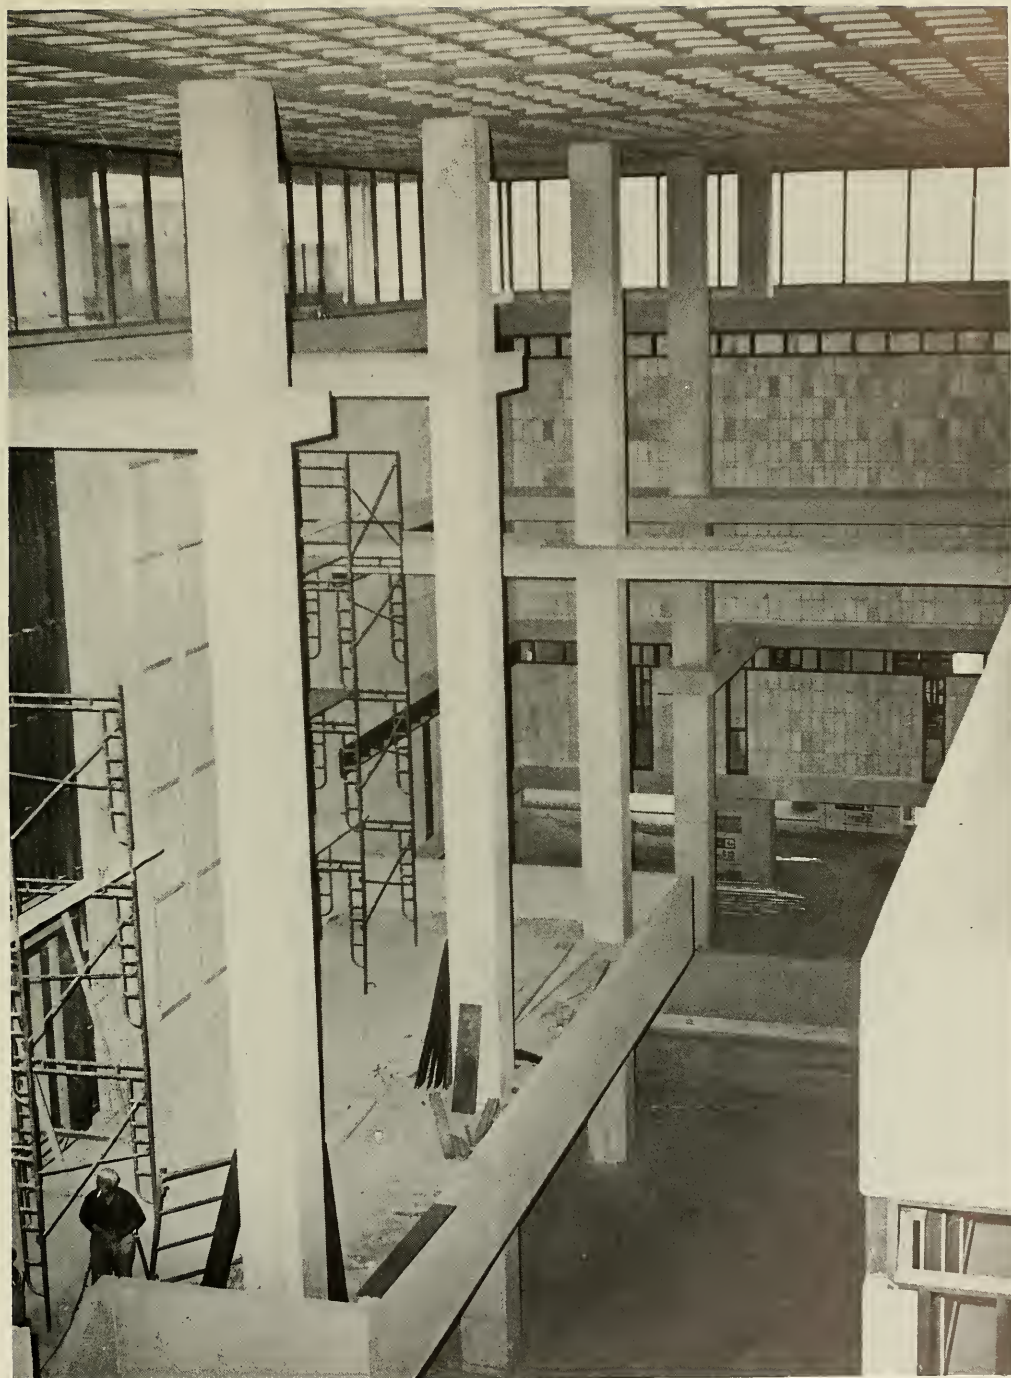

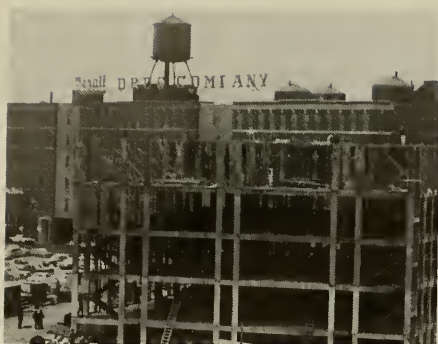

... Then through here

... From above, it looked like this

... This was being built in 1964

... 1966 construction

... 1967 construction

Now, the results...

more...*

Night descends--and a career ends

Editor's Message

This book is not for now. It's for that time, some years from now, when you sit down after supper and catch, out of the corner of your eye, the dust covered binding of the 1969 Cauldron poking its unobtrusive way out of the corner of a bookcase. Or, you may dig it out of a long forgotten box in your attic or cellar.

Our aim has been this: that when you open this book 15 or 20 years from now, you can sit down and have a pleasant half-hour looking at the pictures and recalling the names and faces of those with whom you spent those five long and sometimes frustrating years at Northeastern.

Our hope then, is that when you reread this book some years from now, you can remember—we hope pleasantly—your Northeastern career. That you can relive, perhaps, the hours of studying, the fleeting minutes of enjoyment at basketball and football games, the feeling of accomplishment when, on June 15, 1969, you stood in that long line to receive your diploma.

If that has been accomplished, I am happy. I have fulfilled my purpose as editor.
